EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

IN THE SPECIFICATION:

In the amendment to the paragraph beginning on page 1, line 4 of the specification submitted in the preliminary amendment dated March 15, 2004, in line 2 of the amended text, the term "pending" was deleted and replaced with --U.S. Patent No. 6,742,449, dated June 1, 2004-- to provide updated information on the parent application.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest a ball marking device or method including all of the structure (or method steps) as recited, in combination with and particularly including, a marking device for marking a putting directional indicator on the dynamic axis of a ball and a braking device capable of stopping movement of the ball with respect to the marking device and holding the ball in a position that allows the marking device to mark the putting directional indicator on the dynamic axis. It is noted that the dynamic axis is understood in the art (as exemplified, for example, by Beny et al. in column 1, lines 64-68) to mean the axis at which minimal precession forces arise because both the center of gravity and the geometric center of the sphere lie in a perpendicular plane, i.e., the spin axis of the ball at the equilibrium position. Additional attention is invited to the persuasive arguments presented by applicant set forth on pages 6 and 7 of the amendment filed October 21, 2004 regarding the amended claim language.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
